

Chris Gonzalez

Executive Editor, Teen Sites

Christopher Kish Gonzalez is the Executive Editor of CondéNet's Teen Sites. In this role, he has overseen the development of CondéNet's new teen property, Flip, as well as YM.com.

With seven years of experience working on teen web sites and a background in leading media-training workshops for youth, Mr. Gonzalez has a deep commitment to young people and teen media.

Prior to joining CondéNet, Chris was Director of Teen Sites at iVillage, where he oversaw the Hearst Teen Internet Group, encompassing Seventeen.com, CosmoGirl.com, and Teenmag.com. He has also served as Director of gURL.com, an early pioneer in online communities for teen girls.

As a youth media trainer, Chris has led video and Web workshops at Lincoln Center and the Public Theater, as well as in conjunction with AmeriCorps.

Mr. Gonzalez has an M.A. and B.F.A. from New York University. He lives in Manhattan with his partner and three French bulldogs.
